How to Use This Book

This is the speaking edition. The Altar Psalms Bible holds the scholarship; the Working Integration holds the verse-by-verse frequency filter; this book holds what to say, in what order, for which purpose, and how to pronounce it. Find your situation in the contents, open to that section, and read aloud. Everything you speak is printed in full where you need it.

The two basic modes

Everyday reading — you just woke up. No candle, no altar, two to three minutes. Section I.

Altar ritual — you are at the altar with the candle. The full working order, with the sovereignty seal added. Section II.

Pronunciation reference for Geneva 1599 spellings, Hebrew altar lines, and the divine Names is Section III. Every other section (money & prosperity, protection, crisis, consecration, clarity, travel, funerary) tells you which psalms to add or swap, and in what order, for that purpose.

The Monad Rule

Everywhere the English text used the substitute-title "Lord," this book reads "Monad" — the actual Source, the One, the Hermetic ALL. The real Names are kept as they are: Elyon (the Most High), Shaddai (the Almighty), YHWH (the Tetragrammaton — spoken aloud as Adonai), Elohim / "my God," and the English renderings "the most High" and "the Almighty," which translate Elyon and Shaddai.

Why: "Lord" is a title, not a Name. It translates Hebrew Adonai, Greek Kyrios, Latin Dominus — and at the linguistic level it is the same word as Ba'al (lord/master). Hosea 2:16 itself records the Monad saying: "You will call Me Ishi, and no more will you call Me Baali" (verified against the Hebrew at Sefaria). Chaldean: LORD = 16/7 — the Tower, a karmic-debt number. MONAD = 21/3 — the World, the completion arcana, the same 21 carried by YESHUA and ELYON. The substitution moves the spoken text from the Tower vibration to the World vibration.

The Pronoun Extension

The Monad has no gender. The Monad is the Unmanifest, the source from which polarity (including the principle of Gender) emanates — it is not on the spectrum, it generates the spectrum. The masculine pronouns "he/him/his" in the Geneva text are translation artifacts inherited from grammatically-gendered Hebrew (no neuter), carried through Greek and Latin, then hardened into doctrinal masculine deity by patriarchal church structures. The same editorial-control pattern that gave us "Lord" gave us "He." Both are removed here.

Wherever the Geneva 1599 used "he/him/his" referring to the Monad, this book reads "the Monad" or "the Monad's". Specific emanations of the Monad that carry gender by lineage attestation (Sophia / Ruach HaKodesh — She; the Father-current of the lineage formula — He) keep their pronouns where they are specifically invoked. Pronouns referring to the human operator are left in their inherited form.

Every substitution point in this book, so you can audit:

· Psalm 91 — LORD→Monad at vv.2, 9; pronoun→Monad at vv.2 (×2), 3, 4 (×4), 11 (×2)

- Psalm 23 — LORD→Monad at vv.1, 6; pronoun→Monad at vv.2, 3 (×2)
- Psalm 35 — LORD→Monad at vv.1, 5, 6, 9, 10; pronoun→Monad at v.9
- Psalm 118 — LORD→Monad at vv.6, 7, 8, 9 (all four)
- Psalm 72 — LORD→Monad at v.18; pronouns kept (they refer to the anointed King, not the Monad)
- Psalm 151 — LORD→Monad at v.3 (×2), v.5; pronoun→Monad at vv.3, 4 (×4)
- Psalm 152 — LORD→Monad at vv.4, 6
- Psalm 153 — LORD→Monad at v.1; pronoun→Monad throughout vv.1–6 (×14)
- Psalm 154 — LORD→Monad at v.9; pronoun→Monad at vv.1, 2 (×2), 4 (×3), 6, 7 (×2), 9 (×2), 10, 14, 17 (×3), 20 (×2)
- Psalm 155 — pronoun→Monad at v.14 (×2)

Twenty-one title substitutions plus fifty-two pronoun substitutions: seventy-three total (Psalm 72 added one title substitution at v.18). Every other word of the source texts is unchanged.

Pronunciation

Verse text is set clean — no inline brackets, no marks interrupting the flow. The Geneva 1599 word choice stays (thee, thou doest, mine head, anynt, oyle, the -eth verbs, the silent terminal e, the -esse endings); the v/u swap is modernized; spoken pronunciation matches the modern word. When a word is unfamiliar, the Pronunciation Guide in Part III holds the Hard Words tables for each psalm, the divine Names, and the Hebrew altar lines sounded out. Use Part III to learn the words once; return to the clean verse text for ritual delivery.

PART I

The Everyday Reading

On rising. No candle. Two to three minutes.

The Everyday Order

This is for the morning you just want to say the Psalms and start the day right — no altar, no candle, no ritual. The on-rising practice is Psalm 23 spoken on waking; the going-out practice is Psalm 91 verse 11 spoken three times before stepping out of the house. Provenance note: both forms are documented Hoodoo working tradition rooted in Selig's Kabbalist frame. Selig's own Psalm 23 instruction is fasting + bathing + holy name Jah for visions; the on-rising daily form is the Hoodoo working layer over Selig. The Psalm 91:11 doorway recitation is folk Hoodoo, not Selig's text.

Psalm 23 — the everyday text

Geneva 1599, with the Monad Rule at verses 1 and 6.

NOW — Sit up in bed (or stand if you are already up). One slow breath in, one slow breath out. Then speak Psalm 23 aloud, verse by verse.

A Psalme of David.

1. The Monad is my shepherd, I shall not want.
2. The Monad maketh me to rest in greene pasture, and leadeth me by the still waters.
3. The Monad restoreth my soule, and leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for the Monad's Names sake.
4. Yea, though I should walke through the valley of the shadowe of death, I will feare no evill: for thou art with me: thy rod and thy staffe, they comfort me.
5. Thou doest prepare a table before me in the sight of mine adversaries: thou doest anyoynt mine head with oyle, and my cuppe runneth over.
6. Doubtlesse kindnesse and mercie shall follow me all the dayes of my life, and I shall remaine a long season in the house of the Monad.

At verse 4 the voice shifts from third-person to "Thou" — let your voice meet it. In the everyday reading you do not need the crown-touch; that belongs to the altar.

NOW — Speak one line of gratitude in your own words. “Thank you for this day.” — or whatever rises. One line is enough.

The door verse — Psalm 91:11, three times

11. For the Monad shall give the Monad's Angels charge over thee to keepe thee in all thy wayes.

NOW — At the door, hand on the latch, before you step out: speak verse 11 three times.
Then step through and go live the day.

PART II

The Altar Ritual

The full working order, at the candle. With the sovereignty seal.

The Altar Order

This is the standing daily working — the Hoodoo structure your ancestors transmitted (91 opens the perimeter, 23 seals the blessing), applied to the cleaner text, with the Monad Rule enacted and Psalm 118:6-9 added as the sovereignty seal between the path-ward and the petition. Ten steps:

- 1. The Hermetic cross on the body. Forehead → heart → right shoulder → left shoulder → back to heart. One slow breath through the whole gesture. Forehead is the Monad above; heart is the body's altar; right is structure; left is flow; the return to heart seals it.
- 2. The lineage formula, aloud: "In the name of the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit." You are invoking the Monad behind those words — not the institutional egregore — through the formula your ancestors carried.
- 3. Light the candle (or continue the standing burn). The documented Hoodoo order — Yronwode / Lucky Mojo — is that the working psalm is spoken as you light the candle, not after. The flame is the seat of the working from this point through the snuff. Every spoken word that follows rides this flame.
- 4. Psalm 91, aloud — the perimeter (full text next page). If you want the Hebrew opening first: yoh-SHEV buh-SEH-ter el-YOHN, buh-TZEL shah-DYE yit-loh-NAHN. Holy Name held in mind before recitation: El Shaddai (el-shah-DYE).
- 5. Psalm 23, aloud — the seal of provision and path (text follows the Psalm 91 text). At verse 5, touch the crown of your head at "anoynt mine head with oyle." Let "my cuppe runneth over" be one slow breath.
- 6. Psalm 118:6-9, aloud — the sovereignty seal (text follows). Four short verses. They refuse fear-of-man and the pull of human authority before the petition is stated. The petition then goes out from a sovereign place, not from a fear-of-man place.
- 7. The petition, aloud — spoken into the lit flame. First person, present tense, brief. What you are drawing in. If a written petition paper is sealed under the candle plate, your spoken petition rides over it.
- 8. Sit with it. One slow breath minimum; seven if you have the time.
- 9. Gratitude, aloud: "Thank you for this day. Thank you for this provision. Thank you for this protection. Thank you that the work is already moving."
- 10. When you put it out — snuff, never blow. The Hoodoo doctrine (Yronwode / Lucky Mojo): snuff/pinch = the working pauses and you will return to it; blow = the working ends. The daily ritual is a standing return-to-it, so the close is always snuff. Pinch the wick or use a snuffer. As you snuff: "The working continues. Thank you." The breath that spoke the petition must not be the breath that scatters the flame.

Psalm 91 — the altar text

Geneva 1599, with the Monad Rule at verses 2 and 9.

NOW — At the altar threshold — pause. Wash your hands at the basin, or press your palms together at the altar edge. One slow breath. The body crosses into ritual time.

The Hermetic cross on the body

NOW — Right index finger touches each station; one continuous breath through the whole gesture.

Stations 1 → 2 → 3 → 4 → 5 (return). Forehead = the Monad above; heart = the body's altar; right = structure; left = flow; the return to heart seals.

NOW — Speak the lineage formula aloud: “In the name of the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit.”

NOW — Light the candle (or continue the standing burn). The working psalm rides the flame — documented Hoodoo order (Yronwode, Lucky Mojo). Every spoken word from here to the snuff is spoken into a lit flame.

NOW — Optional Hebrew opening of Psalm 91 (spoken slowly, on one breath): “yoh-SHEV buh-SEH-ter el-YOHN, buh-TZEL shah-DYE yit-loh-NAHN.” Hold the Holy Name El Shaddai (el-shah-DYE) in mind before the recitation — Selig’s assigned Name for this psalm.

NOW — Now speak Psalm 91 aloud, verse by verse.

1. Who so dwelleth in the secrete of the most High, shall abide in the shadowe of the Almightye.
2. I will say unto the Monad, O mine hope, and my fortresse: the Monad is my God, in the Monad will I trust.

3. Surely the Monad will deliver thee from the snare of the hunter, and from the noysome pestilence.
4. The Monad will cover thee under the Monad's winges, and thou shalt be sure under the Monad's feathers: the Monad's trueth shall be thy shielde and buckler.
5. Thou shalt not be afraide of the feare of the night, nor of the arrowe that flyeth by day:
6. Nor of the pestilence that walketh in the darkenesse: nor of the plague that destroyeth at noone day.
7. A thousand shall fall at thy side, and tenne thousand at thy right hand, but it shall not come neere thee.
8. Doubtlesse with thine eyes shalt thou beholde and see the reward of the wicked.
9. For thou hast said, The Monad is mine hope: thou hast set the most High for thy refuge.
10. There shall none evill come unto thee, neither shall any plague come neere thy tabernacle.
11. For the Monad shall give the Monad's Angels charge over thee to keepe thee in all thy wayes.
12. They shall beare thee in their handes, that thou hurt not thy foote against a stone.
13. Thou shalt walke upon the lyon and aspe: the yong lyon and the dragon shalt thou treade under feete.
14. Because he hath loved me, therefore will I deliver him: I will exalt him because hee hath knowen my Name.
15. He shall call upon me, and I wil heare him: I will be with him in trouble: I will deliver him, and glorifie him.
16. With long life wil I satisfie him, and shew him my salvation.

The voice changes twice: verses 1–2 are you speaking; verses 3–13 are the blessing spoken over you; verses 14–16 are the Monad speaking back. Slow down at 14–16 — that is the seal.

NOW — Now move to Psalm 23 — the seal of provision.

Psalm 23 — the altar seal of provision

Geneva 1599. The Monad Rule applies at verses 1, 2, 3 and 6. Full text inline so you stay in the working without flipping back.

NOW — Speak Psalm 23 aloud, verse by verse.

1. The Monad is my shepherd, I shall not want.
2. The Monad maketh me to rest in greene pasture, and leadeth me by the still waters.
3. The Monad restoreth my soule, and leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for the Monad's Names sake.
4. Yea, though I should walke through the valley of the shadowe of death, I will feare no evill: for thou art with me: thy rod and thy staffe, they comfort me.

NOW — At “anoynt mine head with oyle” — touch the crown of your head. At “my cuppe runneth over” — one slow breath, eyes closed.

5. Thou doest prepare a table before me in the sight of mine adversaries: thou doest anoynt mine head with oyle, and my cuppe runneth over.
6. Doubtlesse kindnesse and mercie shall follow me all the dayes of my life, and I shall remaine a long season in the house of the Monad.

NOW — Now move to Psalm 118 verses 6 through 9 — the sovereignty seal. Four short verses. They clear the will-field of fear-of-man before the petition goes out.

Psalm 118:6-9 — the sovereignty seal

Geneva 1599 (verified against BibleGateway GNV; orthography harmonized to the book's 1599 style). The Monad Rule applies at all four verses.

NOW — Speak the four verses aloud.

6. The Monad is with me: therefore I will not feare what man can do unto me.
7. The Monad is with me among them that helpe me: therefore shall I see my desire upon mine enemies.
8. It is better to trust in the Monad, then to have confidence in man.
9. It is better to trust in the Monad, then to have confidence in princes.

The closing sequence — petition through snuff

Steps 7 through 10 of the altar ritual. Inline so you stay in the working all the way to the snuff.

NOW — If a written petition paper sits beneath the candle (sealed there from a prior working — the Beltane working, a fresh consecration) do not disturb it. Your spoken petition rides over the paper and into the lit flame. The paper holds the form; the spoken word renews the current.

NOW — Speak your petition aloud into the lit flame. Eyes on the candle. First person, present tense, brief. What you are drawing in. “I receive...” / “I am walking into...” / “The Monad is providing...”

NOW — Sit with it. Eyes closed. One slow breath minimum — seven if you have the time. (The seven-breath count is Hermetic, not Hoodoo — the contemplative layer the operator adds between the active working and the close.)

NOW — Speak the gratitude aloud, eyes open on the flame: “Thank you for this day. Thank you for this provision. Thank you for this protection. Thank you that the work is already moving.”

NOW — When you put it out — snuff, never blow. Hoodoo doctrine (Yronwode / Lucky Mojo): snuff/pinch means the working pauses and you will return to it; blow means the working ends. This is a daily standing return-to-it, so the close is always snuff. Eyes on the flame as you snuff. As you snuff, speak: “The working continues. Thank you. In the name of the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit. Amen.”

The breath that spoke the petition must not be the breath that scatters the flame. That is the lineage logic of the snuff rule. The petition rides the flame; the flame is sealed by closing it without your breath.

If the candle goes out mid-ritual

A flame that drops in the middle of a working is information, not a failure of the working. Read it first; then decide. Two patterns:

- Draft, wax-pool drowning the wick, a finished candle. Material cause. Re-light from a fresh match (not from another flame on the altar — flames inherit intention). Continue from where you were.
- No draft, the candle was sound, and the flame still dropped. Treat it as a signal. Stop. Cross. “What is being shown?” One slow breath. If nothing rises, re-light and continue, naming aloud: “The working continues. I am present. Thank you for the signal.” If a clear no rises, leave the working closed for now and return when the field is steady.

Either way: do not blow on the wick to re-light. Do not panic. The current is held in the spoken word and the body, not in the flame alone.

Petition paper construction (for a new working)

For a fresh working — a new prosperity petition, a new protection petition, a new consecration — documented Hoodoo (Yronwode, Paper in My Shoe) gives a precise form. Build it correctly the first time and the standing burn rides cleanly:

- Pen and paper. Brown paper or parchment for general workings; the colour of the working for color-specific intents (green for money, white for protection). Write in continuous lines without lifting the pen — the line is the working circuit. First person, present tense, brief.
- Direction of fold. Fold toward you for drawing workings (prosperity, love, blessings, attraction). Fold away from you for removal workings (banishing, protection, breaking a condition). Do not mix directions in the same paper — all folds the same way.
- Number of folds. Three folds for general workings; seven for power and completeness. Odd numbers only.
- Face direction. Lay the folded paper face-up for positive intent; face-down for coercive or removal intent.
- Placement under the candle. Place the folded paper on the altar. Set the candle on a fireproof saucer or plate on top of the petition. The paper «sets» under the candle the way an egg sets under a brooding hen — a continuous burn, not sectioned. A set petition is not relit in sections; it burns through.

Once the petition is set under the working candle, the daily spoken petition rides over it: the paper holds the form, the spoken word renews the current. Do not disturb the paper. When the candle finishes (or the working closes), the convention is to either burn the paper in the final flame and bury the ashes, or fold it again and carry it in a mojo bag — depending on whether the working is closed out or made portable.

Psalm 118:6-9 — function, lineage, numerology (reference)

Function and lineage

Psalm 118 is the closing psalm of the Hallel sequence (Pss 113–118) recited in Jewish liturgy on the festivals. Verses 6–9 are the sovereignty declaration: aligned with the Monad, unmoved by human authority. Verse 6 is quoted directly in Hebrews 13:6: "The Lord is my helper, and I will not fear what man shall do unto me" (verified against KJV) — the verse carried its fearlessness-before-man function across both Testaments.

Provenance note, so the record is straight: the documented Hoodoo court-case psalm is Psalm 35, not 118. The sovereignty-seal use of 118:6-9 is this book's addition, built at the operator's instruction on the verse's plain function and its Hallel weight — it is not a documented Hoodoo formula. Named so the operator works it knowingly.

Where the seven psalms in this book ward the unseen-vector attacks (predators, hexes, attached entities, isolation, loss of path), 118:6-9 wards the seen-vector pull — fear of man, capture by institutional egregores, the daily pressure of the social-political field. Together they close the warding in both directions: above and within-the-world.

The numerology — why these four verses

The verse-numbers 6, 7, 8, 9 map directly to the operator's personal architecture: Birthday 6 (Lovers — choice, union of opposites), Karmic Lesson 7 (Chariot — mastery through will), active Pinnacle 8 (Strength / Justice — balanced power, 2026–2034), Expression 9 (Hermit — the inner lamp, agape, completion). Reading the four verses in order is reciting the personal architecture as a sovereignty declaration. Sum: $6+7+8+9 = 30 \rightarrow 3 =$ Empress (creative abundance, the manifesting field). The verse run consummates in Empress vibration.

Placement in the altar flow: after Psalm 23, before the petition. The path-ward (23) is spoken first; the sovereignty seal (118:6-9) clears the will-field of human-authority interference; the petition then goes out from full Monad-alignment.

PART III

Pronunciation Guide

The old spellings, the Hebrew, and the Names — sounded out.

The One Rule for the Old Spelling

The Geneva 1599 text in this book reads strange but pronounces exactly like the words you already know. Two printer habits remain in the verses: extra silent letters (greene = green, walke = walk, cuppe = cup, shielde = shield), and -esse / -nesse for -ess / -ness (darkenesse = darkness, kindnesse = kindness, Doubtlesse = doubtless). The third printer habit — u and v swap places (vn to, vpon, deliuer, ouer) — has been modernized out of the verse text in this edition, because that one made modern eyes stumble without adding ritual weight. The Geneva voice (thee, thou doest, mine head, anynt, oyle, the -eth verbs) is preserved. When in doubt: say the modern word. The old spelling is the costume; the word underneath is the same.

Hard words in Psalm 91

The Names — say them with weight

Written	Say it	It is just the word
Monad	MOH-nad	the One. Source. The Hermetic ALL.
Elyon	el-YOHN	the Most High — lean on the last syllable
Shaddai	shah-DYE	the Almighty / All-Sufficient — rhymes with "sky"
YHWH	ah-doh-NYE	the Tetragrammaton. Hold the four letters in mind; speak "Adonai."
Elohim	eh-loh-HEEM	God — Name of structure and judgment
Elohai	eh-loh-HIGH	"my God"
Yeshua	yeh-SHOO-ah	the man. The root of "salvation" itself.
Sophia	soh-FEE-ah	Wisdom — the living current from the Monad
Ruach HaKodesh	ROO-akh hah-KOH-desh	the Holy Breath (kh = soft throat-clear)

The Hebrew altar lines, syllable by syllable

Stress falls on the CAPITAL syllable. "kh" is a soft scrape in the back of the throat, like the end of "Bach" — a gentle h works if you cannot make it. "tz" is the ts in "boots." The apostrophe is a tiny half-vowel, "buh" said fast.

Psalm 91, verse 1 — the opening of the perimeter

yoshev b'seter Elyon, b'tzel Shaddai yitlonan

yoh-SHEV · buh-SEH-ter · el-YOHN · buh-TZEL · shah-DYE · yit-loh-NAHN

"Whoever dwells in the secret place of the Most High shall lodge in the shadow of the Almighty."

Psalm 91, verse 2 — the four-Name circuit

omar la-Adonai machsi u-m'tzudati, Elohai evtach-bo

oh-MAR · lah-ah-doh-NYE · mahkh-SEE · oo-muh-tzoo-dah-TEE · eh-loh-HIGH · ev-TAKH-boh

"I say of YHWH: my refuge and my fortress, my God in whom I trust."

Psalm 151 opening — for consecration work

Halleluyah le-David ben-Yishai

hah-leh-loo-YAH · leh-dah-VEED · ben-yee-SHY

"A Hallelujah of David, son of Jesse."

Psalm 154 opening — for clarity work

B'qol gadol pa'aru Elohim

buh-KOHL · gah-DOHL · pah-ah-ROO · eh-loh-HEEM

"With a loud voice glorify God."

Psalm 155 opening — for the inner perimeter

Adonai, qara'tikha — haqshivah elai

ah-doh-NYE · kah-rah-TEE-khah · hahk-SHEE-vah · ay-LIE

"YHWH, I have called to You — attend to me." (YHWH spoken as Adonai.)

PART IV

Money & Prosperity

One section — money and prosperity are the same working.

The Money & Prosperity Order

You asked whether money and prosperity are separate — they are not. The documented stream treats them as one working centered on Psalm 23, and the green candle you burn is its instrument. Psalm 72 is added as a third form — the documented Selig wealth-amulet, a written working rather than a spoken one. Three forms:

Form 1 — the daily green candle (your standing working)

Exactly the Altar Ritual of Part II, with the green candle as the flame and the money petition spoken at step 7. Psalm 23 verse 5 is the money verse — the anointed head, the cup running over. The crown-touch and the slow breath at "my cuppe runneth over" are where the prosperity current seals. Psalm 118:6-9 (step 6) seals you against fear-of-lack before the petition is stated.

NOW — Run the Part II altar order at the green candle. At step 7, speak the money petition aloud into the lit flame: first person, present tense, no future-conditional. "The Monad is providing my work and my wages now. I receive abundance in alignment with the Monad. I move money cleanly and give thanks." If a written money petition is sealed under the candle plate, do not disturb it; the spoken line rides over it into the flame.

NOW — To recite Psalm 72 in the daily working: after Psalm 23, before Psalm 118:6-9, speak the whole of Psalm 72 (Form 3 text) aloud into the green flame. This both works the wealth-psalm directly and charges the Psalm 72 amulet set under the candle — reciting psalms over a curio is the documented charging method (Yronwode). The universal altar order (Part II) stays unchanged; this addition lives only in the green-candle money working.

Form 2 — the seven-morning working (Selig + Yronwode synthesis)

Provenance: the literal Selig text gives Psalm 23 with holy name Jah seven times for visions/dreams. The seven-morning anointing form and the Job's Tears disposal are documented Hoodoo working tradition (Yronwode / Lucky Mojo / Jesterbear). This is a coherent lineage synthesis, not a single citation.

- Seven consecutive mornings, on rising, anoint with olive oil mixed with bayberry oil and speak Psalm 23 (the Part I text).
- Candle when used: green or gold for prosperity. Dress with Money Drawing, Good Fortune, or Bayberry oil.
- Carry seven Job's Tears seeds in your pocket throughout all seven days — not just on day 7. They charge alongside the candle work.
- On the seventh morning: take the seven Job's Tears in the hand, walk to running water (a creek or river — the Chattahoochee for Atlanta), speak Psalm 23, and throw the seeds over the left shoulder into the running water to lay the trick. Do not look back.
- While dressing any prosperity candle or feeding a mojo bag, the spoken line is verse 5: "thou doest anoynt mine head with oyle, and my cuppe runneth over."

NOW — Selig+Yronwode form — each of the seven mornings: anoint forehead and wrists with the olive+bayberry blend, speak Psalm 23 aloud holding the seven Job's Tears in your pocket, end with one line of gratitude. On the seventh morning, take the seven Job's Tears in your right hand, walk to running water, speak Psalm 23 once more, then throw the seeds over the left shoulder into the running water without looking back.

Speak the abundance as flow for yourself in alignment with the Monad — never as a performance aimed at anyone else's lack. That is the frequency line between prosperity work and envy work.

Witness on file: the first morning this working ran in its corrected form (June 8, 2026), the account read $777.10 by 11:04 AM. 7-7-7 reduces to 21 — the World. The working answers.

Form 3 — the Psalm 72 wealth amulet (make, charge, wear)

The documented Selig prosperity working for Psalm 72 is a written amulet. Selig, Secrets of the Psalms (verified against the archive.org full text): “Write this Psalm with the name Aha, in the usual manner, upon pure parchment, and suspend it around your neck, and you will become a universal favorite, and find favor and grace from all men; you may then live unconcerned, for you can never come to poverty.” The holy name Aha is drawn from the words Elohim (verse 1) and Jeassshruhu (verse 17).

You were right that there is power in reciting it too — and the lineage agrees. Documented Hoodoo charging (Yronwode / Lucky Mojo): “Traditional means of charging mojo bags and other curios and amulets include asking in the name of the Father, Son and the Holy Ghost; reciting psalms from the Holy Bible; passing the bag through incense smoke or candle flame; dressing it with anointing oil... and applying your personal concerns.” So reciting Psalm 72 is not separate from the amulet — reciting it IS how you charge it, and your daily green-candle working (Form 1) is its standing charging-engine.

A. Make the amulet

NOW — On pure parchment (sheepskin parchment is the documented choice; clean unlined paper or brown kraft paper also carries it), write the whole of Psalm 72 (text below) plus the holy name Aha. Write in one continuous hand — the unbroken line is the working circuit. Red money-ink (Dragon’s Blood) is the power/drawing ink; plain ink serves if you do not have it. (Dove’s Blood is for love, not money — do not use it here.)

NOW — Fold the parchment toward you (drawing-in, never away). Odd folds only — three for a general draw, seven for power and completeness. Keep it face-up as you fold. This is the documented Yronwode petition fold.

B. Charge the amulet

NOW — Cross, then speak the lineage formula: “In the name of the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit.” Hold the holy name Aha in mind.

NOW — Recite the whole of Psalm 72 aloud over the folded parchment — this is the charge. Speak it into the paper. (Reciting the psalm is the documented charging act, not an extra step.)

NOW — Pass the amulet through incense smoke — frankincense or copal on a charcoal disc — and/or through the green candle’s flame. Dress it with a drop of Money Drawing oil. Breathe onto it; speak your name and what you are drawing in.

NOW — Set it under (or beside) the standing green candle so your daily Psalm 23 working charges it in the same burn. The amulet feeds on the daily flame; the daily flame is fed by the amulet. This is how Form 3 lives inside Form 1.

C. Wear and feed it

NOW — Once charged, suspend it around your neck (Selig’s instruction) or seal it in a mojo bag worn against the body. Feed it weekly: breathe on it, dress it with a touch of Money Drawing oil, and re-recite Psalm 72 — or simply let it keep charging under the daily candle. A worn working kept fed stays hot; an unfed one goes quiet.

Psalm 72 — the wealth-amulet text

Wording verified against BibleGateway 1599 Geneva (GNV) this session. Set in the post-v6 convention: u/v and i/j modern, the -eth verb endings kept. Monad Rule: “Lord” → Monad at verse 18 (the one substitute-title in the psalm). “God” / Elohim at verses 1 and 18 is a true Name and is kept. The pronouns he/him/his refer to the anointed King, not the Monad, so the Pronoun Extension does not convert them — named here so the operator can audit. (Heavier 1599 spellings were not retrofitted, because I will not fabricate orthography I cannot verify against a facsimile.)

A Psalme of Solomon.

1. Give thy judgments to the King, O God, and thy righteousness to the King's son.
2. Then shall he judge thy people in righteousness, and thy poor with equity.
3. The mountains and the hills shall bring peace to the people by justice.
4. He shall judge the poor of the people: he shall save the children of the needy, and shall subdue the oppressor.
5. They shall fear thee as long as the sun and moon endureth, from generation to generation.
6. He shall come down like the rain upon the mown grass, and as the showers that water the earth.
7. In his days shall the righteous flourish, and abundance of peace shall be so long as the moon endureth.
8. His dominion shall be also from sea to sea, and from the river unto the ends of the land.
9. They that dwell in the wilderness shall kneel before him, and his enemies shall lick the dust.
10. The kings of Tarshish and of the isles shall bring presents: the kings of Sheba and Seba shall bring gifts.
11. Yea, all kings shall worship him: all nations shall serve him.
12. For he shall deliver the poor when he crieth: the needy also, and him that hath no helper.
13. He shall be merciful to the poor and needy, and shall preserve the souls of the poor.
14. He shall redeem their souls from deceit and violence, and dear shall their blood be in his sight.
15. Yea, he shall live, and unto him shall they give of the gold of Sheba: they shall also pray for him continually, and daily bless him.
16. An handful of corn shall be sown in the earth, even in the top of the mountains, and the fruit thereof shall shake like the trees of Lebanon: and the children shall flourish out of the city like the grass of the earth.
17. His name shall be forever: his name shall endure as long as the Sun: all nations shall bless him, and be blessed in him.

18. Blessed be the Monad, the God of Israel, which only doeth wondrous things.

19. And blessed be his glorious Name forever: and let all the earth be filled with his glory. So be it, even so be it.

20. Here end the prayers of David the son of Jesse.

Provenance note, so the record stays clean: Psalm 102 is NOT a money psalm. A circulating social-media claim files it under “everyday financial help,” but the documented lineage (Selig; the Hoodoo psalm index) assigns Psalm 102 to grievous illness, affliction, and grace for the barren — health and mercy, not money. It is named here only to keep the record straight; it is not part of the prosperity order.

PART V

Protection

The outer perimeter, the inner perimeter, and the sovereignty seal.

The Protection Order

Psalm 91 is the outer perimeter — the household, the body, the day. Psalm 155 is the inner perimeter — your own mind and bones, against intrusive thought-forms, oppressive spirits, and pulls toward what your discernment rejects. Psalm 118:6-9 is the sovereignty seal — against fear of man, capture by human authority, the pull of institutional egregores. Use 91 daily; add 155 whenever the pressure is inside rather than outside; add 118:6-9 when the pressure is the social-political field.

Psalm 91 protection practice

Items marked «documented» are lineage Hoodoo. Items marked «operator» are this book's additions on top of the lineage, built at the operator's instruction. Provenance kept honest so the working is worked knowingly.

- Holy Name: El Shaddai (el-shah-DYE). Hold it in mind before reciting. (documented — Selig assigns this Name to Psalm 91; Shaddai appears in 91:1)
- Candle: white (most common) or purple. For a household boundary: a seven-day white glass-encased candle dressed with Protection or Fiery Wall of Protection oil. (documented Hoodoo)
- Herbs at the base: rue, hyssop, agrimony, black salt, red brick dust. (documented Hoodoo — Yronwode protection herbs; red brick dust + black salt is the lineage threshold combination)
- Timing: Saturday is the traditional protection day (Saturn — shielding); Tuesday when reversing an active attack (Mars — warfare). (documented Hoodoo planetary day correspondence)
- Recitation count: documented Hoodoo speaks the whole psalm three times. Selig's pure-Kabbalist form is 99 recitations with 41 holy names — an escalation form available for active spiritual attack.
- Verses 9-11 as the anointing slice, while anointing crown, throat, wrists, ankles, and the four corners of the threshold. (operator construction — the verses are the operative protection covenant; the body-and-threshold anointing sequence blends Hoodoo herb-base with ceremonial body-temple work)
- Verse 11 three times before leaving the house; the whole psalm seven times on the eve of a long journey. (folk Hoodoo, not specifically Selig)

Psalm 155 — the inner perimeter text

Charlesworth/Sanders diction; recovered from the Dead Sea Scrolls (11QPsa) and the Syriac. YHWH is spoken aloud as Adonai (ah-doh-NYE).

NOW — At the white candle — cross, lineage formula, light the candle, then speak Psalm 91 (full text, Part II). The working psalm rides the lit flame. That is the outer perimeter. Then speak Psalm 155 below — the inner perimeter.

1. O YHWH, I have called to You; be attentive to me.
2. I have spread forth my palms toward Your holy dwelling; incline Your ear and grant me my petition, and do not withhold my request from me.

3. Build up my soul and do not cast it down; and do not abandon it in the presence of the wicked.
4. May the Judge of Truth turn the rewards of evil away from me.
5. O YHWH, do not judge me according to my sins, for no living man is righteous in Your presence.
6. Give me discernment, O YHWH, in Your Law, and teach me Your ordinances,
7. So that many may hear of Your deeds, and peoples may honor Your glory.
8. Remember me, and do not forget me, and do not lead me into things too hard for me.
9. Cast the sin of my youth far from me, and may my transgressions not be remembered against me.
10. Purify me, O YHWH, from the evil scourge, and let it not turn again upon me.
11. Dry up its roots from me, and let its leaves not flourish within me.
12. You are my glory, O YHWH; therefore my request is fulfilled before You.
13. To whom shall I cry that he might grant to me, and the sons of men — what more can their power do?
14. My trust, O YHWH, is before You. I cried "YHWH!" and the Monad answered me, and the Monad healed my broken heart.
15. I slumbered and slept, I dreamed; indeed I awoke.
16. [You sustained me, O YHWH]; I shall call upon YHWH my Savior.

The Qumran expansion adds the binding line: "Do not let Belial dominate me, nor an unclean spirit; let neither pain nor the evil inclination take possession of my bones." Speak it after verse 11 when the working is against a named hostile pressure. This binds the hostile current away from you — it is boundary work, not a curse on any person.

NOW — When 155 closes, speak Psalm 118:6-9 (Part II text) — the sovereignty seal against fear-of-man and institutional pressure. Then speak Psalm 23 (Part II text) to seal the whole working with provision and presence. Then snuff the candle, eyes on the flame, with the words "The working continues. Thank you."

Protection order at the candle: Psalm 91 first (outer), Psalm 155 second (inner), Psalm 118:6-9 third (sovereignty), Psalm 23 last (seal). White candle.

PART VI

Crisis & Enemies

The first sign of enemies or court trouble — and the day the siege is on you.

The First-Sign Order — Enemies & Court (Psalm 35)

Psalm 35 is the documented court-case and enemies psalm of the conjure stream — "to prevail in a court case in which a person is opposed by unrighteous, revengeful and quarrelsome people" (verified against the documented Hoodoo psalm index this session). This book deploys it preventively: speak it at the FIRST SIGN of a legal matter, a named enemy, gossip turning organized, or an institution baring its teeth — to stop the matter before it matures. That early-strike framing is the operator's strategic addition; the court-case function itself is documented lineage.

This is not an everyday text. Psalm 35 is a warfare psalm. Speaking it daily with no enemy in the field points the attention at enemies every morning — the same frequency line the prosperity section names. The everyday shield against the evil eye and evil people is already standing: Psalm 91 covers the hunter, the arrow, and the pestilence daily. Deploy 35 when something real shows its teeth, then put it down.

Selig's documented form (the pure-lineage option): the whole psalm with holy name Jah held in mind, spoken early in the morning for three successive days, to surely win the case. Letters of the Name appear in Lajehovah (v.2), Hodu (v.3), Azath (v.9), and Hejozer (v.14). The vv.1-10 slice below is the operator's daily-deploy form; the lineage 3-morning form uses the whole psalm and contains all four Name-letters. For a serious court case or active enemy work, run Selig's form three mornings; for a smaller matter still maturing, the vv.1-10 daily form is the lighter touch.

First-sign order at the candle (operator form): Psalm 35 vv.1-10 → Psalm 91 → Psalm 23, daily until the matter dies.
Selig 3-morning form: whole Psalm 35 with holy name Jah, three mornings in a row.

NOW — At the white or brown candle — cross, lineage formula, light the candle, then speak Psalm 35 vv.1–10 below into the lit flame. Voice firm, not pleading. You are pleading the cause to the Monad, not begging the enemy. Then speak Psalm 91 (Part II), then Psalm 23 (Part II), then snuff with the closing words.

Psalm 35:1-10 — the first-sign text

Geneva 1599 (wording verified against BibleGateway GNV this session; orthography harmonized to the book's 1599 style). Monad Rule at verses 1, 5, 6, 9, and 10. Verses 1–10 are the complete working arc — the plea (1–3), the scattering (4–6), the pit-reversal (7–8), the rejoicing spoken in advance (9–10). For an extended siege the full psalm (28 verses) may be read from any Geneva or KJV text with the same substitution.

A Psalme of David.

1. Plead thou my cause, O Monad, with them that strive with me: fight thou against them that fight against me.
2. Lay hand upon the shielde and buckler, and stand up for my helpe.
3. Bring out also the speare, and stop the way against them that persecute me: say unto my soule, I am thy salvation.
4. Let them be confounded and put to shame, that seeke after my soule: let them be turned backe, and brought to confusion, that imagine mine hurt.

5. Let them be as chaffe before the winde, and let the Angel of the Monad scatter them.
6. Let their way be darke and slipperie: and let the Angel of the Monad persecute them.
7. For without cause they have hid the pit and their net for me: without cause have they dug a pit for my soule.
8. Let destruction come upon him at unawares, and let his net, that he hath laid privily, take him: let him fall into the same destruction.
9. Then my soule shall be joyfull in the Monad: it shall rejoyce in the Monad's salvation.
10. All my bones shall say, Monad, who is like unto thee, which deliverest the poore from him, that is too strong for him! yea, the poore and him that is in miserie, from him that spoileth him!

Natural Law line, so the working stays clean: this psalm does not curse anyone. It pleads the cause to the Monad, asks that the trap they dug take its own digger (the karmic reversal — their action returning to them, not yours sent at them), and rejoices in advance. The Angel does the scattering. You hold the boundary. That is defense against active aggression — squarely inside the Law.

The Crisis Order

This is not the daily working. This is for the day the lion is at the threshold — an active hostile working, a sustained attack, a siege. Four texts in a fixed order: cry out (152) → raise the wall (91) → bind it off your bones (155) → give thanks before the rescue is visible (153). Speaking the thanksgiving before the deliverance arrives is itself the working.

Provenance note: Psalms 152–155 are Syriac apocryphal texts (Mosul ms. 1113), with Hebrew Vorlagen for 154 and 155 in the Dead Sea Scrolls (11QPsa). Their working assignments here — 152 as cry, 153 as thanksgiving-in-advance, 155 as inner-perimeter binding — are operator constructions on authentic texts, not documented Hoodoo formulary. The 152-as-cry assignment tracks the text closely (David vs. lion/wolf). Hoodoo's own documented crisis stack is the first-sign order above (35 → 91 → 23); the apocryphal-text layer is this book's extension of the Selig-Kabbalist frame to the wider Davidic corpus.

Step 1 — Psalm 152: the cry

Spoken by David while the lion and the wolf were on his flock. Monad Rule at verses 4 and 6.

NOW — At the white candle — cross, lineage formula, light the candle. Then speak Psalm 152 below into the lit flame. Let the cry be in the voice; do not perform calm. The text holds the cry; you let it through.

1. O God, O God, come to my aid; help me, save me, and deliver my soul from the slayer.
2. Will I go down to Sheol by the mouth of the lion? Will the wolf be the end of me?
3. Was it not enough for those who lay in wait for my father's flock, and tore a sheep of my father's flock — must they also wish the destruction of my own soul?
4. Have pity, O Monad, and save Your holy one from destruction, so that he may rehearse Your glories for all of his days, and may praise Your great name,
5. when You have delivered him from the hands of the destroying lion and of the ravening wolf, and when You have rescued my captivity from the hands of the wild beasts.
6. Quickly, my Monad, send from Yourself a deliverer, and draw me out of the gaping pit which imprisons me in its depths.

Step 2 — Psalm 91: the wall

The full altar text from Part II. Speak all sixteen verses.

NOW — Now speak Psalm 91, full sixteen verses (Part II). Voice firmer than at 152. The cry has been heard; the wall now goes up.

Step 3 — Psalm 155: the binding-off

The full text from Part V, including the Belial line after verse 11.

NOW — Now speak Psalm 155 (Part V), including the Belial binding line after verse 11. This binds the hostile current away from your mind and bones — boundary work, not a curse.

Step 4 — Psalm 153: the thanksgiving spoken in advance

Spoken by David after the lion and the wolf were dead. You speak it before the rescue is visible — that is the faith-act that completes the circuit. Monad Rule at verse 1.

NOW — Now speak Psalm 153 below — before the rescue is visible. That is the faith-act. Voice steady, eyes on the candle. Then snuff with the standing closing words.

- 1. Praise the Monad, all you nations; glorify the Monad and bless the Monad's name;
- 2. For the Monad delivered the soul of the Monad's Elect One from the hands of death; and the Monad redeemed the Monad's Holy One from destruction.
- 3. And the Monad saved me from the snares of Sheol; and brought me forth from the abyss that is inscrutable.
- 4. Because before my salvation could proceed from before the Monad, I almost became two parts by two beasts.
- 5. However, the Monad sent the Monad's angel and closed from me the gaping mouths; and redeemed my life from destruction.
- 6. I myself shall praise the Monad and exalt the Monad because of all the Monad's graces, which the Monad has provided and is providing for me.

"Is providing" — present tense. The flow is current, not remembered. Land on that word.

PART VII

Consecration & New Role

Stepping into an office. Anointing an oil, a tool, a calling.

The Consecration Order

Psalm 151 then Psalm 23. 151 is the anointing psalm — the Monad chooses the overlooked youngest brother and the prophet anoints him prince. Use it when you are stepping into a new role, consecrating an oil or a tool, or taking a vow. Open with the Hebrew line: hah-leh-loo-YAH leh-dah-VEED ben-yee-SHY. Anoint with oil at verse 4. Then seal with Psalm 23.

Psalm 151 — the anointing text

Brenton 1851 Septuagint (verified against ebible.org). Monad Rule at verses 3 and 5. Verses 1–5 are the general working text; verses 6–7 (the Goliath combat) are situational — speak them only when you are answering an active, named attack.

NOW — At the white or gold candle — cross, lineage formula, light the candle. Open with the Hebrew: hah-leh-loo-YAH leh-dah-VEED ben-yee-SHY. Then speak Psalm 151 below into the lit flame.

1. I was small among my brethren, and youngest in my father's house: I tended my father's sheep.
2. My hands formed a musical instrument, and my fingers tuned a psaltery.
3. And who shall tell my Monad? the Monad alone, the Monad alone hears.

NOW — At verse 4, anoint with the consecration oil — forehead, then the tool or vow-object being consecrated.

4. The Monad sent forth the Monad's angel, and took me from my father's sheep, and the Monad anointed me with the oil of the Monad's anointing.
5. My brothers were handsome and tall; but the Monad did not take pleasure in them.

— the situational half —

6. I went forth to meet the Philistine; and he cursed me by his idols.
7. But I drew his own sword, and beheaded him, and removed reproach from the children of Israel.

psaltery = SAWL-ter-ee, a small harp. Philistine = FIL-ih-steen.

NOW — Now speak Psalm 23 (Part I text) to seal the new office with provision and presence. Then snuff the candle, eyes on the flame, with the standing closing words.

Then Psalm 23 (Part I text) to seal the new office with provision and presence.

PART VIII

Clarity & Discernment

The Sophia hymn. For decisions, confusion, crossroads.

The Clarity Order

Psalm 154 then Psalm 23. 154 is the Wisdom hymn — Hokhmah / Sophia, the living Wisdom-current from the Monad, personified as a woman whose voice is heard from the gates of the righteous. The Western canon dropped this psalm; the Qumran community and the Syriac East kept it. Speak it when the question in front of you is a discernment call. Open with the Hebrew: buh-KOHL gah-DOHL pah-ah-ROO eh-loh-HEEM.

Provenance note: assigning Psalm 154 to discernment work is operator construction on an authentic Syriac/Qumran text — the psalm's own textual context is actually enemy-siege (the Prayer of Hezekiah frame). The Wisdom/Sophia content in verses 5–15 is what carries it here. The documented Hoodoo clarity psalm is Psalm 43 («send out thy light and thy truth»); if you want a pure-lineage clarity working, run 43 then 23. Both forms are kept in this book — 154 for the Sophia current the operator is connected to, 43 for the documented Hoodoo stream.

Psalm 154 — the Wisdom text

Charlesworth/Sanders diction; Hebrew preserved in 11QPSa. Monad Rule at verse 9. YHWH spoken as Adonai. Hokhmah = khokh-MAH. Wisdom is "she" throughout — that is the text, not a change.

NOW — At the white or purple candle — cross, lineage formula, light the candle. Open with the Hebrew: buh-KOHL gah-DOHL pah-ah-ROO eh-loh-HEEM. Then speak Psalm 154 below into the lit flame. After 154, speak Psalm 23 (Part II text) to seal, then snuff with the closing words.

1. With a loud voice glorify God; proclaim the Monad's splendor in the congregation of the many.
2. Glorify the Monad's name in the multitude of the righteous, and celebrate the Monad's majesty with the faithful.
3. Bind your souls to the good and to the perfect, to glorify the Most High.
4. Assemble together to make the Monad's salvation known, and do not hesitate to make known the Monad's might and the Monad's majesty to all the simple.
5. For it is to make known the glory of YHWH that Wisdom has been given;
6. And it is for recounting the Monad's many deeds that she has been revealed to humans —
7. To make the Monad's power known to the simple, to explain the Monad's greatness to those lacking understanding,
8. Those who are far from her gates, those who have strayed from her entrances.
9. For the Most High is the Monad of Jacob, and the Monad's majesty is upon all the Monad's works.
10. A man who glorifies the Most High — the Monad receives him as one who brings a meal offering,
11. As one who offers he-goats and bullocks, as one who fattens the altar with many burnt offerings, as a sweet-smelling fragrance from the hand of the righteous.

12. From the gates of the righteous her voice is heard, and from the assembly of the pious her song.
13. When they eat with satiety she is cited, and when they drink in community together.
14. Their meditation is on the Law of the Most High; their words to make known the Monad's power.
15. How far from the wicked is her word, from all the haughty to know her.
16. Behold, the eyes of YHWH have pity upon the good,
17. And upon those who glorify the Monad the Monad increases the Monad's mercy; from an evil time will the Monad deliver their soul.
18. [Bless] YHWH, who redeems the humble from the hand of strangers, [and deliv]ers the perfect from the hand of the wicked,
19. [Estab]lishing a horn out of Ja[cob], and a judge of [peoples] out of Israel.
20. The Monad will spread the Monad's tent in Zion, and abide forever in Jerusalem.

The square brackets mark words restored where the two-thousand-year-old scroll is damaged — read straight through them. Then Psalm 23 to seal.

PART IX

Travel & Funerary

The short orders.

Travel

- Stepping out for the day: Psalm 91 verse 11, three times, at the door.
- The eve of a journey longer than a day: the whole of Psalm 91, seven times.
- The morning of the journey itself: Psalm 23 once — "against all manner of bad luck."

Funerary

Psalm 23, spoken at the bedside, the graveside, or on the anniversary. The whole psalm, slow. The hinge is verse 4 — the dark valley where the voice turns from third-person to "Thou" — speak it directly to the Monad, with the grief in your voice. That verse is the comfort spoken over the grief itself.

One-Page Master Table

Situation	Order	Candle
Everyday, on rising	23 → gratitude → 91:11 ×3 at the door	none
Altar ritual (daily)	cross → formula → light → 91 → 23 → 118:6-9 → petition → sit → thanks → snuff	green (standing working)
Money & prosperity	altar order with money petition (recite 72 after 23 to work + charge the amulet); or Selig 7 mornings of 23; or Psalm 72 amulet made, charged, worn at the neck	green or gold
Protection	91 → 155 → 118:6-9 → 23	white
Sovereignty / public field	118:6-9 alone, before posting / confrontation / court / meeting	none or white
Enemies / court, first sign	35 (vv.1–10) → 91 → 23; daily until the matter dies	white or brown
Acute crisis	152 → 91 → 155 → 153	white
New role / consecration	151 (vv.1–5) → 23	white or gold
Clarity / decision	154 → 23 (Sophia current); or documented Hoodoo: 43 → 23	white or purple
Travel	91:11 ×3; long trip: 91 ×7 eve before, 23 that morning	none
After a death	23, slow, verse 4 spoken to the Monad	white

Candle colors, herbs, and timing follow the documented stream (Selig 1788; Yronwode / Lucky Mojo; Hoodoo Sen Moise) as carried in the main Altar Psalms Bible. The Monad Rule, the use-category sorting, the pronunciation, the Psalm 118:6-9 sovereignty seal, and the Psalm 35 first-sign framing are this book's additions, built at the operator's instruction. Where your discernment lands differently, your discernment wins.
